

Title:Akers Journey

"Hello I am a four year old wolf and this is my story". As the sunlight flashed on my white fur with brown spots I walked to the dock. There I saw a 21 year old man and a 10 year old dog just sitting by the boat they were waiting for me. We set sail for 2 days. We saw an island and we stopped but something sank the boat but I survived. I woke up to barking. I swam up and I saw the bright sky flashing on my wet fur.

I swam to the dog and we waited for the man to come but for 7 hours he never came up from the boat. I think he died I mumbled the dog answered yeah in the most saddest voice I ever heard in my life. For 3 days we were on the island with a small forest and not much sand. The sand just kept going in the water.

Well little bits went in the water. But of course there was a man shouting so the dumb dog had to go find the man. As I ran to catch up to the dog I saw the man and saw danger and that mans eyes when he picked that phone up and saw him clicking buttons and that phone ring plus he put it up to his ear and said hi I found two dogs with no owner. I said to myself I'm no dog, well I did look like one. As I saw the pound I knew I was going somewhere to find a home. I didn't want a home. My home is a boat.

They took me to that place and locked me up. I felt like I was in jail. I heard 156 barks in total or even more than that. I felt doomed because when that dog turned 11 he didn't even last 5 hours. I was alone in this barking save a lot. I wanted out, I wanted out, I WANTED OUT! I said it 3 times but that does not mean I was gonna get out.

Soon someone wanted to adopt me but when they opened that thing I ran as fast as I could out of that place. I ran to the streets, fell sometimes in the forest and as soon as they stopped chasing me it was dawn. "Dawn already wow" when I saw that ocean I knew I was close to the docks I ran and tripped on stuff and then when I was home a 36 man came up to me and said "you used to be with that man he sadly died it's been a whole year now where have you been" he picked me up and took me on a boat and I traveled everywhere and on different boats.

The end
